THE CHALLENGE

True knowledge stems from a vast array of horizons. Learning at Johnston County Training School is centered around new discoveries, new ideals, and new developments. Early morning classes advanced math studies, and third year language courses. They also helped to provide an experimental year at J.C.T.S. and found companionship in friends. We advanced mentally and physically in sports and become leaders in activities. Through this wide variety, students were also able to further their future goals.

OF NEW HORIZONS

Johnston County Training School firmly believes in having a variety of extensive curricular courses. As do more than regular school work to keep up with progress. Americans must be educated people and stress this belief by professions which become more complex and skilled, our students must meet the challenge of new horizons.

Alma Mater

1. Of the schools in this broad land
There is none so fair as ours.
Ever true we'll always stand,
Our spirits soaring as a tower.
Chorus Hail to thee Our Alma Mater
Sing we of maroon and gold,
Hail to thee Our Alma Mater
We will cherish thee as of old.

 Though the walls may age and crumble We will ever sing her praise To her songs of love and honor Loyally our voices raise.

FOREWORD

With the passage of years, you may look back upon this school year as the time when the darkness of ignorance suddenly became bright with the gleam of knowledge.

To preserve a record of these moments and the countless other experiences of ourselves and our classmates, this annual strives to capture the "eyes" and "mind" of the scholarship, the leadership, the activities and the character of Johnston County Training School.

I extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to all those persons who worked so faithfully and diligently to make possible the 1964-1965 edition.

Thus, the seniors of the class of '65, proudly present the J. C. T. S.  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{HAWK}}$  .

Vivian Johnson, Editor

Dedication

For the many years of faithful service as a teacher in the Johnston County School System -- for your leadership, inspiration, sincerity and friend to the many boys and girls whom you have touched, we the class of 1965, with this gratitude and respect, dedicate this annual to . . .

MEET OUR NEW PRINCIPALS

To: Members of the 1965 Graduating Class

My dear seniors:

You have almost approached a point where you can proudly look back over your accomplishments of twelve years of public school education. We are doing our best to prepare you for this great hour. We hope that each of you will be prepared to meet the challenges which await you -- such as college, vocational, industrial and technical education. It is our hope that you will be able to take your places beside high school graduates of other schools in the institutions of higher learning. Opportunities for high school graduates are unlimited for those who have the desire and courage to work hard, concentrate and sacrifice. You must never let frolic and frills take precedence over virtue and determination. As your school has helped you, we are counting on you to help others.

The education which you received here is the springhood to your desires, ambitions, expectations, and your destiny. If you have made wise use of your days here at J.C.T.S., developed wholesome interests and attitudes and learned to live with others, then success for you is inevitable.

We are aware of the many problems that may fall in your path. Regardless of the magnitude of your problems, your Alma Mater is willing and able to help you. Our guidance department will be at your service if you need help even though you may have finished school here.

Lastly, acknowledge your loyalty, confidence and appreciation of your Alma Mater by exemplifying the wholesome traits and manners which we have attempted to teach and portray here, maintain an active membership in your Alumni Association, and stay in contact with and support your school. In other words, never forget J.C.T.S.

Mathematics Proves To Be "The Language of Sciences"

J.C.T.S. can indeed be proud of its math program. Already offering six semesters of math besides the related math courses for vocation work, for years it has offered trigonometry for juniors and seniors, making eight semesters of mathematics available to students. Aspiring mathematicians may study algebra, general math, plane geometry, and trigonometry.

In today's world, with the ever-great emphasis on science, satellite and research, the ability to express oneself in mathematical terms is becoming increasingly important. The teachers in the Mathematics Department, under the leadership of Mr. J. K. Murphy, have seen to it that students at J. C. T. S. receive this knowledge that the small part to such adventageous we later on edge that they will put to such advantageous use later on.

Young Scientists Study

Sophomores receive their first laboratory experience in the study of biology. In biology classes, taught by Mr. Thomas J. Dublin, students become better acquainted with the living things around them and learn of creatures that cannot be discerned with the naked eye. They know well now the actid odor of formaldehyde rising from dissected specimens, the difficulties of the microscope, and the immense satisfaction and understanding that comes from having interest in the secrets of life.

Sociology, History, and Civics Face Freshman, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors

History is essential in our modern day life. Although many of the events happened long ago, they have much bearing on our present world. It is necessary to know about the past in forming our ideas and opinions on the present and the future events.

World History, a subject which spans the beginning of the world to the present day, gives us an overall picture of how the leading nations of the world today acquired their power, and the importance of people who played leading roles.

United States History, a study of the past but a subject for the future, stresses the point of the United States' independence and the acceptance by other nations of America as a world power.

History also enters into today's world affairs between countries. Without a knowledge of other nations' customs it would be impossible to maintain a democratic government.

The Guidance Department at Work

A successful future awaits those who strive diligently and prepare for it. The Guidance Counselor, Mr. Burton is counseling the above students on their educational plans.

If you've ever spent a class period in the Opportunity Building, you've undoubtedly found it hard to wait for your lunch period because of the delectable aromas drifting from the "students' kitchen." This wait was particularly hard when the future homemakers were preparing for the Mother and Daughter Banquet. Relaxing with a cup of tea being gracefully served in the living room of our model home, they take a break for a few minutes.

Orientation, Health and Physical Education — Prepare Young People For Their Adult Lives

Character, personality, and a thorough knowledge of all vocations are the main ideas stressed in the Freshman orientation classes.

In order to meet the standards set in Orientation class, a student must learn to be physically fit. This is what is what is stressed in Health classes, along with the composure and function of the body. The teacher for the Health class is Mr. Reginald Ennis.

"Oh, Gee! I hit the wrong key." This is a frequent phrase among the young typists at J.C.T.S. These students, with only their goal of 69 words per minute in mind, peck tediously away for a period a day. Shorthand, a combination of many different signs and symbols, often has the appearance of a page of artwork. Scribble, scratch, and tear are involved for the student who wishes to obtain a 100 word-per-minute pin in shorthand.

THE CHOIR ENJOYED MUSIC AND SINGING

In the music room "The Sound of Music" poured activity period as the fifty voices of the J.C.T.S. Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Fannetta S. McLean, rehearsed for their schedule of musical programs.

As the Christmas season drew near, the Choir began preparation for many holiday activities. After presenting an entertaining program for the assembly, the Choir repeated the program for the annual Christmas Concert.

WHILE THEIR ENTHUSIASM AFFECTED THE LISTENERS

At the close of the final day before vacation,
Mrs. McLean and Choir presented "Messiah."
Judith Sanders, Diane Shaw, and Shirley Hodges added gaiety to the Johnston County Training School, the Choir presented several selections lending an international air to the school.
For the Spring Musical Festival the Choir closed

it's year's program with the strains of "Early One Morning" and "Create Within me a Clean Heart O God."

After the seniors had given their treasured Choir stoles to the newly-selected members, only the Baccalaureate service remained.

"Onward! Onward!" . . . with these familiar notes the J.C.T.S. Band brought loyal Hawk fans to their feet and set in motion the wheels of many of Johnston County Training School's sporting events.

At all home and some away football games, the Band, which practiced evenings after school under the direction of Mr. John R. Windley, added gaiety to the events with spectacular half-time shows. These shows included music, marching, and various formations.

In its cheerful maroon and gold uniforms, the Band was a familiar sight in some of the community's parades.

The Band displayed its concert abilities in the District and State Festival. Thus receiving an A-1 rating for a number of years.

In the spring, the Band participated in the annual Outdoor Concert and also played for commencement.

Last but not least, Hats Off to our director Mr. John R. Windley, for his leadership and Guidance of the band.

CHEERING SQUAD

Cheerleaders boosted school spirit at every opportunity and backed the teams through both victories and losses. They encouraged good sportsmanship at football and basketball games. Their tasks were many decorating goal posts... gathering good attendance... new and novel yells... backing the team at all times and urging, "All the way, big team, all the way"... and lending a helping hand to the Junior cheerleaders who are also to be congratulated for a job well done.

LIBRARIAN HELPS STUDENTS IN THE LIBRARY EVERY-DAY

Seeking their way through books, the J.C.T.S. Librarian kept our "knowledge nook," in tip-top shape. She not only had a constant world of learning at her own fingertips, but she also aided many J.C.T.S. students in their literary problems.

She not only is librarian, but is a sponsor of the Library and Hospitality Clubs. The junior librarians, ranging from freshmen to seniors, learned the techniques of card cataloging and the Dewey decimal arrangement, which enabled them to their job capably.

Miss Lottie M. Blair, A.B., Tennessee State; M.S., North Carolina College; Further study North Carolina College; Library Science.

HOSPITALITY CLUB

Receptionists greet visitors in the front entrance of the school. They act as guides and ushers for various school programs. These girls render a very important service to the school.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

"The faculty committee has the honor of informing you that you have been elected to membership in the J.C.T.S. chapter of the National Honor Society." An invitation containing the above words is received each spring by the newly elected members of this organization. The qualities upon which membership is based are a high scholastic average, participation in school and community service, leadership, and character; and only five per cent of the juniors and fifteen per cent of the seniors are selected as members each year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is the official representative of the student body with the administration and faculty of the school. It strives to increase school spirit, co-ordinate student activities, and aid in the enforcement of school regulation.

Are you interested in what makes the world go around? Then the Science Club is for you. A Program has been formulated to present scientific information in such a way that interest is stimulated to "dig deeper," experiment more, in fact to choose a career in science. Various methods are used in developing this program such as field trips to laboratories in local factories. A practical application of textbook knowledge is applied to these visits.

Hawk's Observe

THE HAWK'S OBSERVER REPORTED THE HAPPENINGS OF J.C.T.S.

Every activity period in the commercial room, the editorial staff of the Hawk's Observer under the leadership and supervision of editor-in-chief Ernestine Vinson worked diligently solving many problems confronting the paper.

News editor Brenda Atkinson searched for the latest happenings around the school while Alice Nixon, assistant editor, organized all of the news pages. On the lighter side, feature editor Virgie Jones wrote of the humorous incidents that happened to certain students and of the latest teenage fads that were all the rage.

Sports editors Brenda Atkinson and Ernestine Vinson looked through their crystal ball and foretold all the wins and losses of our athletic events.

While remembering the cold, wet, dreary mornings of last winter, we can see the safety patrol, braving these surroundings, ably directing the traffic outside the school building and the student walking the corridors to and from classes. But traffic jams are not the only worried for the boys and girls in the round, white helments and white belts. Traffic jams of people and cars on the ball ground during the football season were eventually worked out by the Johnston County Training School Safety Patrol.

BUS DRIVERS

Today, the world needs efficient school bus drivers. The bus drivers of J.C.T.S. are doing a splendid job trying to abide by all safety rules.

It is evident that "careful driving" has been our bus drivers slogan for this year. Hats off to them!

James Mitchell, Shaw University; A. and T. College Driver Education.

CLASS HISTORY OF '65

"A journey of a thousand miles must begin with a single step."

In the year of 1961, a group of some 120, more or less, passengers boarded a ship. The name of the ship was "Opportunities to Success." Each student had a round trip ticket with an expiration of June 1965.

The sea was calm but at times it was often raging and restless. We set sail on this new sea because there was new knowledge to be gained and new experiences to be encountered which would bring us closer to success.

Our first job aboard was to elect the officers of our ship. Our advisors were Mrs. Geiger, Mr. Rainbow, Mr. Emmis, Mrs. Ennis, and Mrs. M. A. McNeil. Captain Ernestine Kent, Co-captain Vivian Johnson, Secretary Mary Eggleston, and Assistant Secretary Brenda Atkinson were elected.

We found out that our passengers were very active and versatile. They participated in many of the activities and they were superb in dramatics, the cheering squad, the choral club, athletics, and the band. They played a very active role throughout the remaining four years of the trip.

As the first year of our trip drew nigh, we found ourselves anchored in the land of Sophomores. We realized that we had reached only half of our first step toward success, the land of hope.

Before we began our cruise through this unknown land, we re-organized our crew. Our advisors were Miss Blair, Mrs. Ennis, and Mrs. M. A. McNeil. Captain Mary Eggleston, Co-captain Hopie Smith, Secretary Vivian Johnson, Assistant Secretary Jacqueline Barbour steered the ship.

Many exciting events took place aboard ship during this year, for instance, Ernestine Kent was noted as personality of the month, Vernell McClain won the title of Miss Versitility. During the Grade Tournament our girls won a trophy as the best cheering squad, (they'll do it everytime!), and our boys won a trophy as first place champions.

We could properly take pride that the eagerness and enthusiasm we felt when we first boarded the ship was still alive. The very fact that the Junior Class turned in so impressive a performance in the past two years added urgency to the need for incentives to help it turn in an even more impressive performance in 1963-64. This we did very impressively.

Our first aim, reorganization. Our advisors were Mr. Murphy, Mrs. Ennis, and Mr. Boone. Our officers were Captain Maurice Bell, Co-captain Hopie Smith, Secretary Christine Clements, and Assistant Secretary Jacqueling Barbour.

The highlights of this year were our Sweater Ball, Junior Week . . . one of our charming lassies, Carolyn Sanders, was chosen Miss Junior. Lee Liles was named Mr. Junior. Hopie Smith was elected president of the Student Council by the overwhelming majority of the student body . . . five of our crew member, Jacqueline Barbour, Foraker Felder, Maurice Bell, Hopie Smith and Christine Clements were initiated into the National Honor Society . . . our Junior-Senior Prom was tops! Our theme "Roman Holiday," was dejected in every speech, song and definitely in the scenery. Participating in the graduation exercises were, Maurice Bell, Carol L. Johnson, Foraker Felder, Hopie Smith, Jacqueline Barbour, and Christine Clements.

Before we realized it our journey was drawing to an end. They cry of the year, "Don't give up the ship," rang in the ears of many.

Our advisors were, Mrs. Ennis, Mr. Dublin, and Mr. Boone. Captain Maurice Bell, Co-captain Hopie Smith, Secretary Lee Liles, and Assistant Secretary Malchomn Howard directed the course.

Many great adventures beckon to us in the future: the Senior-Parent Banquet, Class Day, Class Night . . . and then, voyage completed, graduation!

Upon completion of our voyage, we must agree, "These were times that try men's souls." We could never adequately express our gratitude to our principal, Mr. J. F. McNeil as well as the teachers, and parents who helped us.

"Oh time, I would hold you in my clasp; hold the cherished moments a little longer!" But, we must say "Bon Voyage."

Vivian Johnson

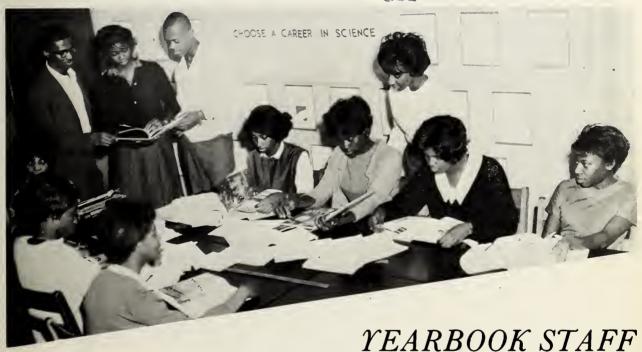

Editor --Vivian Johnson

Assistant Editor -Maurice Bell

What comes with graduation, is dressed in some mysterious color, and is awaited by almost every J.C.T.S. student? It is the Hawk, of course, produced by the J.C.T.S. yearbook staffs.

With drooping eyes but a willingness to work, the editorial staff met at four each afternoon to begin their work. The added attraction of coffee and donuts helped to make everything even more fun. The first duty of the staff was to plan attractive layouts for the book. Then careful attention was given to planning clever pictures which were taken by our photographer Alex Riveria. Imagination was put to work in writing catchy headlines and interesting stories

Vivian Johnson and Maurice Bell, co-editors, planned the opening section and saw that everything ran smoothly for the other members. Ernestine Kent was in charge of the classes, while Jackie Barbour dealt with students from seniors to freshmen in the friends section. Brenda Atkinson and Cecelia Barnes recorded all the clubs and extracurricular fun in the activities section, and Foraker Felder edited the ever-important sports section. Dianne Hinton, Constance Watson, Joyce Penny, Brenda Atkinson, Mirian Hilliard, and Christine Clements, typists, were speedy and kept the typewriters going at a steady pace.

READING MAKE THE FULLMAN

In this picture students are busily engaged making good use of their time and the library facilities. Not all students, however, go to the library to do research from books. Some of them enjoy reading newspapers and magazines. The library is one part of the school where students keep busy all day.
